BORAH'S PLAN HAS INTEREST OF CONGRESS

Agitation For Extra Session To Aid Farmers Gets Attention of Legislators.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—A campaign to force an extra session of congress this summer is dominating the legislative situation as senators and representatives assemble today for the opening of the short session of congress Monday.

The campaign was started by Senator Borah, leading campaigner for the Hoover-Curtis presidential ticket and has spread to bloom in the senate and house in the face of objections from the normal leaders. It has grown so steadily that the leaders now fear their legislative program may be interrupted so an extra session will have to be called.

BLOCS HAVE POWER
If they choose the blocs can delay one or two appropriation bills and other necessary legislation vital to conduct of government business compelling the calling of the extra session to obtain action on these left overs.

Borah said he would be a party to such a move. He informed the United Press today he would combine his activities to public speeches advocating the extra session to obtain action on farm relief. But at the same time he expressed doubts as to whether he can get a final vote on the Kellogg anti-war treaty which he believes may have to be handled in an extra session. The following Borah may not be reluctant to take the step which would make the extra session necessary.

LOOK TO HOOVER
The rumormongers started when President-elect Hoover announced during the campaign he would provide relief before the next harvest and to do this he would call an extra session if this session failed to offer the necessary relief. Now Hoover is cruising in South America while his leaders are arguing that he meant by "adequate relief." One side takes the view that the newly revised McNary-Kellogg bill to promote cooperative marketing will meet Hoover's demand.

They are preparing to thrust the bill through in the short session, believing no extra session will be necessary. The other side led by Borah says there can be no relief without tariff revision and predicts there will not be time to revise the tariff before this congress expires March 4.

DISPUTE OVER GIRL RESULTS IN BATTLE

Trouble over a girl resulted in a fist fight between Melvin Bass and Elmer Cunningham, Friday morning and Cunningham was fined $5 and costs by Mayor B. T. Edges on a charge of assault and battery. Both of the boys are in Circleville. The fine was suspended.

Bass suffered a badly bruised eye and walked into the mayor's office followed by Cunningham and an immediate trial was held.

Bass is employed at the Chevrolet garage and is said to have been called to the Essex garage where the fight occurred.

SEA DRIVES 20,000 FROM THEIR HOMES

BRUSSELS, Nov. 30.—Floods in the Ardennes region drove 20,000 persons from their homes today as the sea swept inland through breaches in the dykes made during the recent storm, which battered the coast.

TWO CONVICTS FACING DEATH

Charles Hoppe and John Rucker Will Die Friday Night
In Ohio Penitentiary.

OHIO STATE PENITENTIARY, Nov. 30.—Charles Hoppe, the Toledo chauffeur who killed a 7-year-old girl, stood on the brink of death today. The state board of clemency refused to recommend executive clemency for him.

In another cell in death row was John Rucker, a Cincinnati negro who will die with Hoppe tonight for the murder of a policeman. Rucker will die first because he was received in death row first, but Hoppe will follow him to the electric chair by only a few minutes.

The executions will mark the end of a series of court battles waged in a desperate effort to save the men from the chair.

Their last hope—and that is virtually gone—is that Governor Vic Donahey will extend executive clemency, but the governor has indicated he will not.

The Governor always follows the board's recommendations. Both Hoppe and Rucker ate hearty Thanksgiving dinners yesterday, despite the shadow of the electric chair hanging over them.

The double execution comes on Warden P. E. Thomas' 56th birthday anniversary. When the two men die, the warden will have presided at 37 executions.

Hoppe was convicted and doomed to death for the kidnaping and killing of Dorothy Szelagowski of Toledo. The child was snatched from her bed, just before dawn one dark last summer and her body was found a few moments later on the porch of her grandfather's house.

ATTEND CLEVELAND LIVESTOCK EXHIBIT

George H. May, of Circleville, and W. G. Koch, of Jackson-Twp., were in Cleveland Thursday and attended the State-National Fat Stock in Cleveland's $3,000,000 auditorium. This show was one of the finest of its kind ever conducted in the United States.

Out of the cattle on exhibition there, Swift and Co. bought 40 head and sold them to the most extensive hotels and restaurants in Cleveland.

Earl M. Gibbs of Parma, O. entered a steer at the exhibit, which was 15 months old and weighed 950 pounds. An Aberdeen Angus which was bought by the Nickel Plate Railroad Co. for $1,112 or $1,25 a pound.

A curiosity that attracted the attention of Mr. May and Mr. Koch was a carrier pigeon that had been turned loose in St. Louis Mo., and in 11 hours had returned to its home in Cleveland. That trip of 500 miles was made at the rate of 12,232 yards per minute.

MURDER FARM YOUTH ADMITS BOY'S SLAYING

Gordon Northcott Makes Confession on Train Bringing Him From Canada.

Aboard West Coast Limited, En-Route to Los Angeles, Nov. 30.—Gordon S. Northcott today made a complete confession of the murder and beheading of an unidentified Mexican boy last February, one of four boys he is alleged to have murdered on his chicken farm at Riverside, Cal.

The confession, made to Deputy District Attorney Earl Redwine, of Riverside, came as a climax to 14 hours of steady grilling by officers who are bringing Northcott from Canada to Los Angeles to face murder charges in connection with his alleged "murdered farm."

It required several hours for young Northcott to describe in detail the slaying of the Mexican youth and the strain of questioning brought him near collapse.

GLAD ORDEAL OVER.
The accused youth's forehead was dripping with perspiration as he completed his confession of the gruesome slaying, he relaxed for the moment, wiped his face with a handkerchief, then suddenly exclaimed:

"Thank God, that's over, now I can sleep in peace."

The prisoner made the admission voluntarily, according to Redwine. Northcott had disclosed fragmentary parts of the slaying of the Mexican through the day, but denied responsibility for three other murders on his farm.

"His story is enough to send him to the gallows now," Redwine commented. "It means he will very probably plead guilty to three other murders as well."

VERBAL CONFESSION
The confession was made verbally and no signed statement was taken. It was witnessed, however, by Albert L. Kelley, chief investigator of the Riverside county district attorney's office.

Northcott implicated his nephew Sanford Clark in the slaying, according to Redwine.

"The murder took place at the chicken ranch," Northcott was said to have related. "I had hired the Mexican kid to work and we had a quarrel over his wages. During the dispute I fired at him with a pistol but did not kill him. I shot several more times."

"Sanford helped finish the job. He plugged the Mexican with a .22 bullet. Then we talked about what to do with him. We had put about nine bullets through his head so we decided it would be best to dispose of it before we disposed of the entire body."

HEAD IS BURIED.
"I started to saw the head off the body and got tired so Sanford offered to help. Then we went out into the back yard, built a fire and burned it up."

The two youths then put the remaining part of the corpse into a sack, loaded it into Northcott's automobile and drove to Puente. Halting along the road, they threw the sack out of the car.

"So that is that," the youth concluded. "It's about what you wanted, isn't it?"

Northcott reiterated his assertion that he was not acquainted with the Winslow brothers or the Collins boy also alleged to have been slain by him.

THIRD DOCTOR SEES MONARCH

Improvement In Condition of King George is Announced
After Consultation.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—A third doctor was called into consultation today by the two physicians who have been treating King George, and after a lengthy study of the case, a bulletin was issued which implied that the king was not yet out of danger.

Sir Humphrey Rolleston was called to Buckingham palace to review the king's condition with Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn, who have been attending his majesty.

After a two-hour conference with Rolleston, Sir Stanley and Lord Dawson issued the following bulletin:

"The inflammation of the lung and pleura show some improvement and the temperature is on a slightly lower level. It must be noted that the time of possible exacerbation of the infection is not yet passed and in any case, progress must be slow."

A high authority at Buckingham Palace told the press:

"While there is a slight but distinct improvement in the condition of the king today's bulletin makes it clear that the possibility of setback must not yet be ignored."

It was said at the palace that Rolleston was not summoned because the king was worse, but because Hewett and Lord Dawson considered that the time had arrived when a review of the whole case was desirable.

Three Murder Indictments Expected In Probe of Noted Gambler's Death

Four Men Held As Suspects in Slaying Which Has Stirred
New York City.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—With three indictments due to be handed down by the grand jury, today's developments promised to be the most sensational in the series of startling events that followed the murder of Arnold Rothstein.

Among those who are expected to be indicted is George McManus, general gambler who has been sitting in his second-tier cell at the Tombs reading newspapers and refusing to talk. The identity of the two other persons who are due to be indicted remained a secret, with District Attorney Joab Banton refusing to give any intimation of the nature of the testimony before the grand jury.

McManus is in jail because three persons have sworn he was in room 349 of the Park Central hotel on the night of Nov. 4 when Rothstein walked into the room and walked out twenty minutes later, fatally wounded.

No one has learned definitely why the most notorious gambler in New York was shot, but the best guessers have decided he got into an argument over a gambling debt. That guess was considered so significant by Banton that he is holding Jimmy Meehan, "Nigger Nate" Raymond and "Titanic" Thompson in jail. All three of them were sitting around a table with Rothstein on Sept. 29, playing stud poker and high-spade.

Four Men Held As Suspects in Slaying Which Has Stirred New York City.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—With three indictments due to be handed down by the grand jury, today's developments promised to be the most sensational in the series of startling events that followed the murder of Arnold Rothstein. Among those who are expected to be indicted is George McManus, genial gambler who has been sitting in his second-tier cell at the Tombs reading newspapers and refusing to talk. The identity of the two other persons who are due to be indicted remained a secret, with District Attorney Joab Banton refusing to give any intimation of the nature of the testimony before the grand jury.

McManus is in jail because three persons have sworn he was in room 349 of the Park Central hotel on the night of Nov. 4 when Rothstein walked into the room and walked out twenty minutes later, fatally wounded.

No one has learned definitely why the most notorious gambler in New York was shot, but the best guesses have decided he got into an argument over a gambling debt. That guess was considered so significant by Banton that he is holding Jimmy Meehan, "Nigger Nate" Raymond and "Titanic" Thompson in jail. All three of them were sitting around a table with Rothstein on Sept. 29, playing stud poker and high-spade.

7 SCARLET FEVER CASES IN COUNTY

The report of Dr. G. W. Heffner, county health commissioner for November has been completed. Scarlet fever cases numbered seven. Most of the cases were reported from Harrison-twp where it was necessary to close the grade school for several days as an epidemic was feared. The other cases for the month reported to the commissioner are as follows: Infantile paralysis, one; tuberculosis, three; diphtheria, four; chicken pox, one; typhoid, two.

AUTOS IN CRASH

The intersection of Main and Court-sts was the scene of an early morning accident Friday when the autos of James Davison and A. E. Stout collided on the slippery street. Davison was going north on Court-st and Stout was going south on Main-st. Stout suffered injuries to his back.

THREE AUTOS ARE WRECKED ON THURSDAY

Jasper, O., Youth Killed In Collision on Narrow Bridge At Peters Farm.

Joseph Slagle, 22, of Jasper, O., near Piketon, was instantly killed Thursday night when the Ford touring car he was driving collided with another auto in a narrow bridge on the Jackson-pk near the John Peters farm, Pickaway-co. Slagle died of a fractured skull. His body was taken to Commercial Point by A. J. Hott and later taken to Piketon by F. J. Kress, funeral director of that city.

The accident occurred about 7:30 o'clock. The names of the persons from Frankfort who collided with the Slagle car could not be learned. There were two people in the car and both received cuts and bruises.

COMPANION UNHURT.

Michael Morgan, riding in the car with Slagle was uninjured while his companion was hurled out of the side of the car to his death. The boys were returning to their homes when the accident occurred. The touring car was a complete wreck, according to Mr. Hott.

H. P. Cready, aged 33, suffered cuts about the head and wrist, Thursday when his auto struck a bridge on the Jackson-pk. The injured man was returned to Columbus to Mercy hospital. He lives at 2273 Ridgeway-ave, Columbus.

The mayor's office was an emergency hospital Thursday morning for two injured men and a woman hurt in an auto accident on the Jackson-pk. All of the parties were colored and were from Columbus.

THREE INJURED.

The accident occurred about 4:30 o'clock. Those injured were: Lula Peck, fractured collarbone, and cuts about head, Julia Hawk, cuts about head, and Arthur Bunch, lacerations about the head.

The injured were brought to the mayor's office as no doctor's office was open at that hour in the morning. Other persons in the car at the time of the accident were Harry Hawk, the driver of the car and Rebecca Peck. Neither of these were hurt.

The colored people, riding in a Durant sedan, were headed toward Circleville and when about 12 miles from this city on the Jackson-pk their auto was hit by a car bearing the license No. 410-234, according to the report made to police.

Their injuries were dressed by Dr. E. S. Shane and they returned to Columbus in autos of friends, who were notified of the accident. The Durant sedan was towed in by The Circleville Motors Co.

REV. M'ELFRESH IS ROTARIAN SPEAKER

Rev. Franklin McElfresh delivered a real Thanksgiving message to the Rotarians at their weekly meeting on Wednesday. He impressed the Rotarians of the benefits of living in the year 1928.

"We are today enjoying living in a golden age, the year of advancement, the year of progress and the year of better understanding between peoples and nations," Dr. McElfresh said. "We would not care to go back even a year and sacrifice the benefits that we as a nation have enjoyed. Having its birth over 150 years ago our forefathers have laid the foundation for us, and today we are the outstanding nation in the world, in wealth, in industry and in science."

On next Tuesday the Rotarians will entertain the Rotary Ann with a banquet and special entertainment at the Boggs hotel at 6:30 o'clock.

On account of banquet Tuesday night, the regular weekly meeting of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce that night will be cancelled. The club voted to provide the Community Christmas tree this year and the Ohio Utilities Co. will furnish the lights and the current for lighting free.

BEWARE BOTTLES

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—One person was dead and 14 were in hospitals today because of too much Thanksgiving liquor. Several of the injuries were caused by falls with whisky bottles in a hip pocket.

Brother of Circleville Merchant is Highly Praised in Magazine Article

Granville "Piggy" Barrere, Hillsboro Editor, Boasts His Home Town.

Granville "Piggy" Barrere, editor of the Hillsboro, O. News-Herald and a brother of Elgar Barrere, of Barrere & Nickerson's Hardware store, is the subject of a very interesting article by Hugh Fullerton, noted sports writer, in the current issue of the American Magazine. He is described as having done more to help his town than any other man in Hillsboro.

Mr. Barrere, according to Mr. Fullerton, who was a childhood friend, does not resemble his brother Elgar in disposition, as everyone in Circleville knows of the even disposition which the local resident possesses.

Mr. Fullerton's article is as follows:

"Down home, when we were kids, we called him 'Piggy,' because he was so darned pig-headed. He was a gangling, awkward-looking kid. When he thought he was in the right, he'd fight and cuss and throw things, no matter how big the other fellow was."

"His name is Granville Barrere. The Barreres came into Ohio just after the Revolution and settled at New Market, which was the big town before Cincinnati was. A Barrere ran the inn there. The capital of that district was moved to Hillsboro, and his son, George Washington, became owner of the News-Herald there."

"Piggy studied at Ohio State University, and went to New York to practice law. When his father died, he went back to run the paper, and he was just as pig-headed as ever. He believed Hillsboro was the most beautiful town in the country and the best place in which to live—which, of course, all we folk from there know. He wanted it to be even better, however. Almost every small town was a crank like that, someone who wants to do something to improve his town, and who sacrifices himself and gets in bad with almost everyone just by trying to help them."

"Every year Piggy sets himself and his paper to some task of improving conditions in the town. He gets—mad, fights, argues, cusses, and usually puts it over. Seven years ago he tackled the biggest job of his career."

"Like most of those beautiful, quiet, small towns, the political gangs ruled this one, and almost ruined it. The finances were in terrible shape, for the town was practically bankrupt, with no sign of relief."

"The waterworks was a junk heap, and the wells and pumps could not furnish water enough to supply the town. Sometimes the supply was shut off for days at a time. Sometimes they had to pump from Clear Creek and try to purify the water. There was little if any fire protection. The streets were in terrible condition. The Business Men's Association knew that conditions were hopeless unless the old, grafting political gang was driven out. They wanted a city manager, but could not have one until the people voted on it, a year later.

"Piggy determined to straighten up the mess when he found that the waterworks bonds—issued many years before—had been forgotten. They did not repudiate them; they just let them go, as there was no money. He got the idea of a non-partisan business administration."

"The idea went over Piggy used his paper to work up enthusiasm over the plan, and every business man in town agreed. Then the committee met, hand-picked the most prominent and successful business men, and put them on the ticket. Every one of them roared and refused to serve."

"I'm too busy," they protested, or, "can't neglect my business," or, "We don't want loafers," replied the committee."

"Piggy carried copies of the pledge to serve and handed them to the business men. They surrendered and kept their pledge. The committee then waited on the political bosses and read the riot act to them. With all the business men in town united, and with nine of the best men on the citizens' ticket, the bosses wilted. The Republicans did not nominate anyone, while the Democrats put up only a couple of candidates."

"The result was as follows: Floating indebtedness paid off; the waterworks bonds paid, waterworks rebuilt; new pumps and reservoir built; air pressure machinery installed; waterworks paying a dividend instead of borrowing money every year; fine paved streets, the fire department reorganized and motor machinery bought; the public library, which had not bought a new book in ten years, reorganized and brought up to date in every particular. Not was there any increase in the tax rate, rather it has been decreased twice.

"This year Piggy decided the year's work should be to build a playground, swimming pool and recreation field for the boys and girls of the town. He knew that it was badly needed, and believed that such a plant would encourage town loyalty, teach sportsmanship and provide clean healthy amusement for the people as well as give the boys and girls some incentive to stay in the old home town."

"He put it over, too. It was a desperate fight, because so many of the older generation still regard sports and games as 'foolishness.'"

COLORED VOTERS' RIGHT IS UPHELD

LITTLEROCK, Ark., Nov. 30.—For the first time in the history of this state a court has held that negroes are entitled to cast ballots in the Democratic party.

The ruling resulted yesterday from a petition filed in the Pulaski county chancery court by Dr. J. M. Robinson and nine other negroes asking the court to restrain election officials from denying negroes the right to participate in primary elections.

Circuit Judge Richard W. Mann, in the absence of Chancellor Frank M. Dodge, granted the petition.

Cloth Hall

The famous Cloth hall at Ypres, Belgium, was built in the Thirteenth century when Ypres was one of the greatest weaving centers in the world. This hall known as Hildesdrapers, was constructed both for a market for this cloth and for civil purposes. Its facade was 43 feet long and its square bell tower in the center was 230 feet high. The building was laid in ruins during the war.

CORN RAISERS HERE HAVE GOOD RECORD

All of the persons competing in the 100 bushel corn club this year from Pickaway-co made a favorable showing according to announcements of the crops by H. S. Lewis, county agent.

The State farm at Orient headed the list with a yield of 102 bushels per acre. Homer Crumley of Harrison-twp, produced a yield of 89 1/2 bushels per acre and B. W. Young, Pickaway-twp, averaged 76 1/2 bushels per acre.

The plots contained 10 acres and the Clunage variety was used on all of the plots. The measurements were calculated on a 20 per cent moisture content.

COLORED VOTERS' RIGHT IS UPHELD

LITTLEROCK, Ark., Nov. 30.—For the first time in the history of this state a court has held that negroes are entitled to cast ballots in the Democratic party.

The ruling resulted yesterday from a petition filed in the Pulaski county chancery court by Dr. J. M. Robinson and nine other negroes asking the court to restrain election officials from denying negroes the right to participate in primary elections.

Circuit Judge Richard W. Mann, in the absence of Chancellor Frank M. Dodge, granted the petition.

Cloth Hall

The famous Cloth hall at Ypres, Belgium, was built in the Thirteenth century when Ypres was one of the greatest weaving centers in the world. This hall, known as Halles des Drapiers, was constructed both for a market for this cloth and for civil purposes. Its facade was 433 feet long and its square belfry in the center was 230 feet high. The building was laid in ruins during the war.

CORN RAISERS HERE HAVE GOOD RECORD

All of the persons competing the 100 bushel corn club this year from Pickaway-co made a favorable showing, according to announcements of the crops by H. S. Lewis, county agent.

The State farm at Orient headed the list with a yield of 102 bushels per acre. Homer Crumley, of Harrison-twp, produced a yield of 89.12 bushels per acre and B. W. Young, Pickaway-twp, averaged 76.43 bushels per acre.

The plots contained 10 acres and the Clage variety was used on all of the plots. The measurements were calculated on a 20 per cent moisture content.

KNOWS NO WORDS TO TELL OF JOY KONJOLA BROUGHT

Various Ugly Stomach Symptoms Are Quickly Eliminated By Short Treatment of New Remedy.

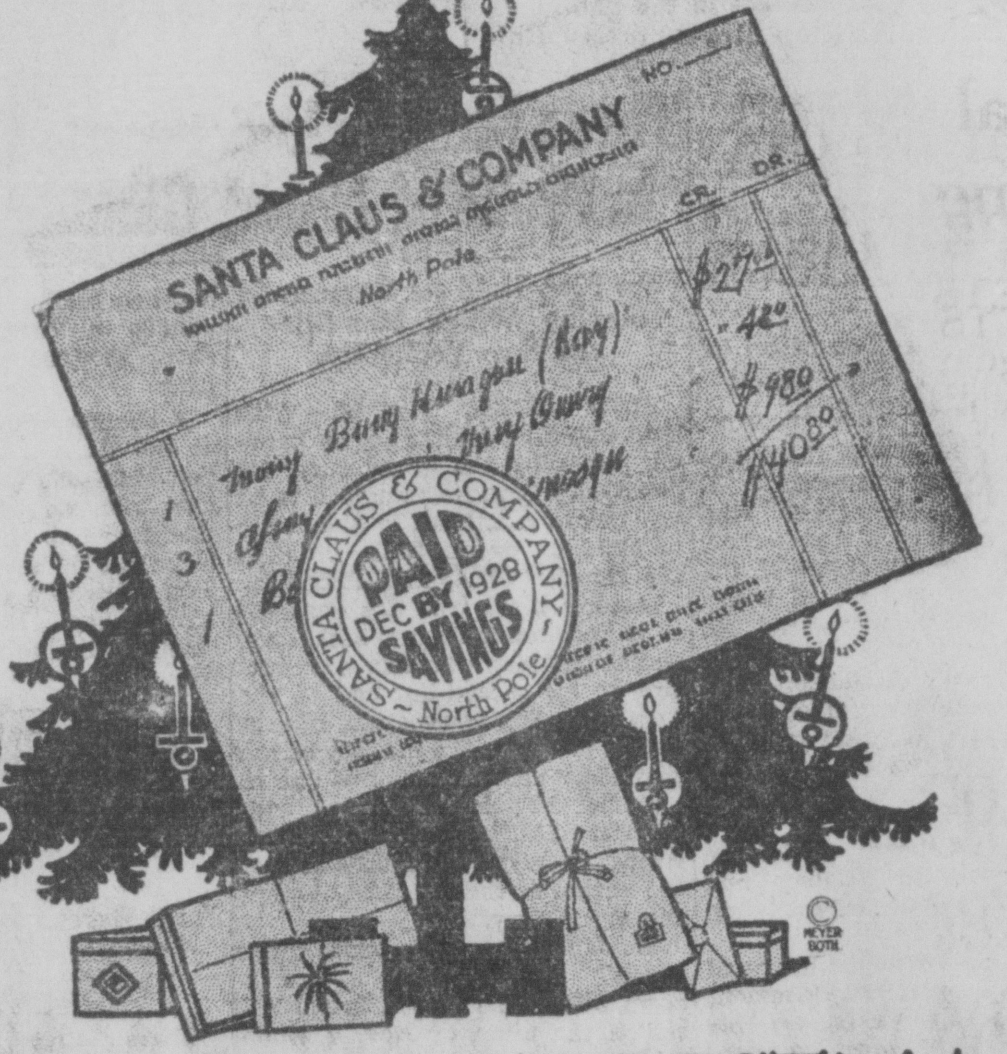

MR. ASA L. POWELL.

"My stomach had been in a bad condition for five years and on top of that I was a victim of habitual constipation, but Konjola quickly and permanently restored my health," said Mr. Asa L. Powell, 114 Edward street, Youngstown, Ohio.

"So many stomach symptoms came over me after each meal that life was a constant round of suffering. Gas bloating, belching spells and dizzy attacks were among them. Chronic constipation made conditions all the worse and although I took strong laxatives they only had temporary effect. I tried every medicine available, but it was all to no effect and I was very discouraged.

"How can I ever describe what Konjola has done for me? Words seem worthless. I have been restored to glorious health by only a short treatment of this medicine. All the symptoms I told you about have been permanently banished and I feel sure the relief is permanent. I eat whatever I want without suffering afterward and constipation is a thing of the past. I endorse Konjola whenever I can because I know what it will do."

Konjola is sold in Circleville, Ohio, at Mykrantz Pharmacy and by all the leading druggists in every town throughout this entire section.—Adv.

PICKAWAY AMONG SHIPPING LEADERS

Co-operative shipments of livestock in Ohio during October broke all previous records for volume, says a report just received by farm bureau officials of Pickaway-co. Livestock valued at $1,667,309.40, represented the net returns after freight and handling expenses have been deducted for 1,136 carloads of all species of livestock weighing 17,050,112 pounds and originating in 41 counties.

The new record exceeds that standing since December, 1925, when hogs were selling for around 17 cents a pound. Fayette-co farmers led in the volume of livestock co-operatively shipped with 224 carloads. This volume was 15 per cent greater than any handled by the cooperative association in that county since it started operations in 1920. Franklin-co farmers consigned more than a 100 cars to the co-operative. Five other county associations—Harding, Logan, Pickaway, Greene and Clinton marketed more than 50 cars during the month.

CHRISTMAS TRADE

The season of Christmas buying has begun. Astute purchasers have been keeping their Christmas needs in mind for some time, and they find that the stores of Circleville are splendidly stocked with the things that they need for gift purposes.

The idea of early Christmas buying may be an old story. But it is something that needs to be told over and over again to the people. The agitation for this purpose has already had a marked effect. Propaganda on this subject has educated the people up to the point where they partly realize the desirability of early buying, and a great many people are getting these purchases out of the way several weeks before Christmas.

People who buy early accomplish something for their own interest. They get the very cream of the stock, which is not so depleted as it will be later after the public have had a chance to pick and choose. Many people appreciate the advantage of getting the first look at goods before the public has come in to handle them. They can now see the full and complete assortment of the things they want.

People save a lot of time when they do their shopping before the holiday rush, and get the packages off before the lines begin to form at the postoffice windows. It would be a wonderful thing if half of the people could make their Christmas purchases and have them shipped out of Circleville three weeks before the holiday. Mark your packages “Do not open before Christmas.”

The stores could do business more efficiently, could give better attention to customers, and everyone would be saved time and annoyance by following out this plan. Worry, hurry, and strain would be saved to postal and store employees. It is a plan that costs nothing, and works to everyone's benefit. Leave the last two weeks for purchases by those who have no money ahead with which they can anticipate their wants.

BOY OFFENDERS

Someone noted in a newspaper a few days ago, an item about a boy who had stolen some cakes from the front of a store, and who was sent to jail.

The question often arises in the courts, what to do with youngsters who perpetrate tricks like that? Some would say that such a boy was no doubt hungry, and he should not be blamed too severely. Also that his association in jail with bad companions might give him a desire for real crime.

Yet it can also be argued that it is not well for boys to get the idea that they can commit these minor offenses with impunity, and that nothing will be done about it. They need to feel that they have forfeited the confidence of the community, and must make good or suffer.

Probation systems under which boys who commit the minor offenses are placed under court supervision, are working good results in many states. It is well to give a boy who has started on evil courses a chance to show if he can do right.

AGE

Once I was a youngster,
And I remember when
I wished to be a grown man,
Just like other men.

I was tired of picnics,
Through the beeches straying,
Tired and tired of silly games,
I was tired of playing.

Very tired of childhood,
Wasn't happy then,
I would be a grown man,
Just like other men.

I felt that life was something
Besides eternal Maying,
Fitter for an effort—
Fitter for essaying.

Gallant deeds and duties
Beyond my childish ken,
What a world there was for People who were men!

And I have found it true,
Oh, there is no gainsaying,
Found a strength and beauty
As answer to my praying.

Then I found old age a
Cool and peaceful glen,
Very much like childhood—
Wise indeed I when
I wished to be a big man
Forever done with playing.
For childhood goes a straying
Into a world of men,
But cometh back and cometh back
To childhood once again.

A scion (no, we don't know what scion means) of an aristocratic English house has come to our shores to work. He will do anything, he says, to gain an honest living—that is, anything except manual labor.

In this the feller is right. Ye scribe has worked with his hands and has worked at a desk. Desk work is sometimes humorously called working with one's head. And we have discovered that the man who worked with his head, so to speak, doesn't work half as hard as the man who works with his hands. Sitting at a desk and writing things is work or not, just as you view it, but shoveling coal and plowing are labor.

President Coolidge has rented a house for $32.50 a month, and this is a fine democratic gesture. He could have got one with a breakfast room at $37.50, but wisely chose the former, for a breakfast room is a nuisance, an abomination and an affront to a people struggling feebly toward civilization. Probably Mr. Coolidge will be just as comfortable and just as happy as he was in the White House, but one wonders how Mrs. Coolidge will feel.

Our own notion of a perfect life would be to live in a hotel. Then one wouldn't have to get up at midnight and close a garage door, wouldn't have to think of a furnace and wouldn't be held responsible if a window rattled in a 60 mile gale.

There is a growing tendency to decry education, and we believe this is a thought in the right direction. Unless there are a few of us dumbbells left how will the smart people ever contrive to show off.

TURKEY HASH

Peaks of Desire

by Kane O'Day

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

JERRY DUNN, star reporter on a large newspaper, covers a garden fete given by Spencer Hayden, a millionaire. There he meets Ann Tremaine, debutante daughter of a wealthy banker, who is engaged to marry Hector Richards, whom she does not love. She becomes interested in Dunn and pretends she is a poor girl who has crashed the party. Dunn rails against the idle rich and his ideas stir Ann. She confesses she belongs to the class he hates and Dunn is shocked, but admits he could fall in love with her if they belonged to the same social group. When she returns home that night Dunn reappears. He asks her to give up the worthless life she is leading and make her way in the world. She promises to leave home and goes in to pack her bags. Jerry takes Ann to his boarding house and there she meets Steve Harrison, a husky young pugilist, who attracts her immediately.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XI.

IN the matter of renting a room, Mrs. Yager was perfectly frank.

“I don't take ladies as a rule,” she explained, “because they're usually fussy, and very often they are not all they ought to be. I run a respectable house, Miss Lynch—of course I can see that you're a decent girl, but I can't say as much teaching—in a high school. It was bad for her health and the doctor advised a change of climate and a new line of work for awhile. She's going to take a job in a different line, as soon as she looks around a bit. Newspaper work, maybe.”

Ann marvelled at his quick inventiveness, but then she realized that he had probably thought it even knew that his mouth was a darkly red streak across the blonde coloring of his skin. She remembered the touch of his hand; the hardest, strongest palm she had ever clasped.

“You'll find the room nice and clean,” Mrs. Yager informed Ann. “And a nice class of people in the house, too. You just make yourself to home, Miss Lynch, and don't hesitate to ask for anything you want.”

Ann smiled; these people meant to be kindly. The least she could do was to return it.

“I'm sure I'll be perfectly comfortable,” Mrs. Yager, she said.

Mrs. Yager nodded her head, sociably. “Being as you're a stranger in town we'll all sort of look out for you. If anybody troubles you just let us know. Steve here, Steve's sort of a prize fighter; I always feel so safe when he's around.”

for a lot of 'em that tries to get in.”

It wasn't quite real to Ann—the installment store furniture, the compact intimacy of the room, the full-blooded informality of Mrs. Yager. The wall paper looked slightly bilious and there was the need of a little more ventilation.

Animality, frank and unrestrained, drenched the room; it radiated from Mrs. Yager, a brood-stock primitiveness, something pungent like freshly upturned earth.

Maybe these people were her kind . . . maybe she would get used to them . . . water finds its level . . . She was glad Jerry Dunn was with her because, after all, he could speak her language if she needed him . . .

“Do you want to show her up to her room, Mrs. Yager, or shall I?” Jerry asked.

“You can carry her things up and show her the room too, if you like, Mr. Dunn,” Mrs. Yager answered negligently. “The key's on the inside of the door. It'll be eight dollars a week.”

Money, of course—that was one thing that couldn't be gotten away from. Ann looked in her bag; fortunately, there was a crumple of bills and she paid her rent on the spot.

“Where you working, Miss Lynch?” Mrs. Yager inquired.

She had not expected anything so abrupt but Jerry Dunn, swiftly, saved her from any suspicious hesitation in answering.

“Miss Lynch is a friend of my aunt and she's just come to town from St. Louis where she was all out before, probably while they were on the street car. Her imagination did not revolt at the imaginary picture he painted of her—Miss Lynch . . . high school teacher . . . stranger in the city . . .

Why not? It might be a little trouble at first to feel like Miss Lynch and act like Miss Lynch, but already she could begin to sense the first faint formation of a new personality. Miss Lynch would be quiet, modest at the start, but she wouldn't be at all high-hat; and she wouldn't bore people by talking about herself; she'd be quite a good fellow after you got to know her—

All at once, she felt a subtle, more respectful change in the demeanor of Mrs. Yager; here school teachers, evidently, were people of consequence. But most of all, Ann could feel the pale blue of Steve Harrison's eyes regarding her under the heavy, bony brows; there was a feminine intuition in her that could read what he was thinking—no, he wouldn't be thinking. Men of his elemental type probably just had sensations; Steve Harrison was fascinated and impressed; his backward shyness was just a barrier he put up to hide behind.

Apparently, she noticed him least of all yet she was keenly aware that his shoulders were broad and magnificent, that his chest was strong, his features regular with the rough strength of a face cast of concrete. She “I'm just an amateur,” he said.

“I ain't a professional fighter.” It was easy for Ann to smile at him but instantly she regretted it—a chap of his class, his intelligence, might misunderstand.

“Well, if I ever need assistance in this large and wicked city I'll call on you for help, Mr. Harrison,” she said, feeling that she should say something.

“You do that little thing,” he returned.

Jerry Dunn carried her bags to the floor above and she followed him a rather small room with white painted woodwork and bright cretonne curtains. There was a heavy brass bed with a spotless coverlet. But it was so bare, such a contrast to her own lavishly furnished room at home, that, for a moment, she suffered a sharp nostalgia. Just for a moment the whole adventure threatened to turn out to be a piece of bleak foolishness.

The alert eyes of Jerry Dunn appeared to read the meaning of the passing shadow on her face. “We do about as we please in this house,” he said. “It's not too late for you to come in my room a while—it's a bit more cheerful. Just for a chat—”

The prospect of going into a man's room considerably after midnight was a novelty, but, under the circumstances, she had no reluctance. Maybe it was taking a tiny chance—but hadn't she left home for that purpose . . . to take a chance . . .

“Indians” Wrongly Named

Our red Indians were so called by error. They were called Indians because the first discoverers of North America thought they had found the northwest passage to India, and so called the inhabitants Indians. Similarly the islands known as the West Indies were so named because of the belief that they were part of India.

THEATRES

AIR COMEDY AT GRAND
Glenn Tryon and Patsy Ruth Miller are starred at the Grand theater tonight in “A Hero for a Night.” The story is that of the antics of a taxi driver who takes to the air like Lindy after a correspondence course in flying that omitted the lesson on how to land. The fifth chapter of “Tarzan the Mighty” will also be shown.

GREAT FILM EPIC

Acclaimed everywhere as one of the greatest film epics ever produced, “Lilac Time,” First National's Colleen Moore-George Fitzmaurice special production, based on the stage play by Jane Cowl and Jane Murnin, at the Cliftona Theater.

“Lilac Time” is by all odds a great special and the most pretentious in which Colleen Moore has appeared to date.

Carey Wilson, who scenarized the screen version, not only included the many stirring episodes that made the stage play one of the greatest in history, but elaborated on parts for filming that could only be vaguely suggested in the spoken drama.

The supporting cast of “Lilac time” includes Gary Cooper, hero of “Beau Sabreur,” “The Legion of the Condemned” and other big productions; Burr McIntosh, George Cooper, Cleve Moore, Kathryn McGuire, Eugenie Besserer, Emile Chautard, Jack Stone and many others.

COMEDY TEAM RETURNS

Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton have handed gloom another knockout in “The Big Killing,” their Paramount team comedy at the Metropolitan theater. As “Powder-Horn Pete” and “Dead-Eye Dan,” these two kings of mirth are at their very best.

The picture deals with the adventures Beery and Hatton, two supposed sharpshooters, encounter when they become involved in a Kentucky mountain feud.

While Beery and Hatton keep the laughs coming so fast that there is scarcely time to notice anything else in the picture, no one could possibly overlook Mary Brian. As the mountain girl, Miss Brian is altogether lovely.

The picture gets off to a fast start with the Beagles renewing their old feud with the Hicks family when one of the Hicks boys catches his sister kissing Jim Hicks. Then Beery and Hatton, dressed in the garb of Daniel Boone made famous, are introduced as “the greatest sharpshooters in the world,” playing an act with a traveling carnival.

ARMY FINAL HOPE OF EASTERN FANS

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—The re-creation of eastern football as far as gridiron fans of the far west concerned, lies in the hands of army.

The pride this season always held in the brand of football played along the Atlantic seaboard, received a severe jolt yesterday when a white clad team from Oregon State invaded the Yankee stadium here and completely outclassed the New York university eleven 25 to 13.

OREGON VICTORY IS HOLIDAY'S FEATURE

New York University Swamped By Powerful Aggie Crew From West.

The surprise victory of the Oregon Aggies over the Violets of New York university and Kentucky's unexpected strength in holding the powerful Tennessee football team to a scoreless tie were the outstanding features of an interesting Thanksgiving Day football program.

The Aggies, unheralded, came east from the Pacific coast to administer a humiliating defeat to one of the most powerful elevens in the east, 25 to 13.

Tennessee's hopes of a southern championship were dashed by a sturdy Kentucky team which fought its rival of long standing to a standstill. The colonies are the first team to hold Tennessee scoreless and the tie left Florida and Georgia Tech as the only unbeaten, untied teams in the south.

Georgia Tech continued its winning stride with a 51 to 0 victory over Auburn Florida fared as well, smothering Washington and Lee, 60 to 6. Alabama whipped Georgia, 19 to 0, and North Carolina State defeated South Carolina, 10 to 7, in other outstanding games.

In the east, Syracuse ended its season with a 14 to 6 win from Columbia and Pennsylvania ran wild against Cornell, scoring almost at will to gain a 49 to 0 decision.

After playing three consecutive tie games in as many years, Brown and Colgate finally reached a decision at Providence, Brown winning a narrow victory, 16 to 13. Pittsburgh smothered Penn State 26 to 0, and West Virginia outscored Washington and Jefferson, 14 to 0.

In the west Nebraska clinched the championship of the Big Six with a victory over Oklahoma A and M. 8 to 0. Butler sent Tulsa back east smarting under a 26 to 3 defeat. Marquette and Drake won from Iowa State and Creighton, respectively, by scores of 6 to 0.

FLYER DEFEAT ONLY TURKEY DAY UPSET

University of Dayton Beaten Marines—Wittenberg Has Close Call.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 30—The final curtain was rung down on collegiate and interscholastic football in Ohio yesterday.

The end of the season was not marked by sensational upsets, nor did a great throng turn out for the last games as anticipated.

Perhaps the greatest game yesterday was that between the Wittenberg Lutherans and Mt. Union, with Wittenberg barely nosing out the M-unts 6 to 0.

St. Xavier trounced the Haskell Indians 26 to 0 in their annual inter-sectional clash at Cincinnati.

Miami whipped the University of Cincinnati, 34 to 0, in a one-sided game, ending the worst football season on record for the Bearcats.

The highly touted University of Dayton team fell before the Quantico Marines, 7 to 0, after a hard-fought game. This was the only upset of the day. The Flyers have been playing superb football but they were not match for the marines.

Up in the northern section of the state, Western Reserve had an easy time walloping Case School of Applied Science, 19 to 6.

While Reserve was beating Case, a powerful and heavy Geneva team was beating John Carroll, 19 to 12. Carroll put up a real battle, but the Genevans had the Carrollites outclassed.

At the same time Wilberforce and West Virginia Institute were battling to a 13 to 13 tie in their annual turkey day classic here.

HOLDS LOOP LEAD

Providence maintained its advance in the National professional football league with a Thanksgiving Dry victory over Pctsville, 7 to 0. Benny Friedman's passing was the big factor in Detroit's victory over Dayton, 38 to 0. The Chicago Bears smothered the Chicago Cardinals, 34 to 0. The Frankford Yellow Jackets scored a safety on the Green Bay Packers to win 2 to 0.

NEW BABY DISTURBS TIRED OFFICE WORKER

"When my oldest boy was just a few weeks old he was badly constipated from my milk," says a Nebraska mother. "He kept us awake so much, my husband almost slept over his desk at the office. Then my doctor got us to give Baby some Castoria and the next day he was much better. His stomach and bowels began acting perfectly and he gave us no more trouble." Avoid imitations of Castoria. The Fletcher signature marks the genuine, purely-vegetable, harmless Castoria, doctors everywhere advise for those ills of babies and children, such as colic, constipation, colds, biliousness, etc.

ARMY FINAL HOPE OF EASTERN FANS

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The reputation of eastern football as far griddiron fans of the far west is concerned, lies in the hands of an army.

The pride this section always held in the brand of football played along the Atlantic seaboard, received a severe jolt yesterday when a white clad team from Oregon State invaded the Yankee stadium here and completely outclassed the New York university eleven 25 to 13.

OREGON VICTORY IS HOLIDAY'S FEATURE

New York University Swamp- ed By Powerful Aggie Crew From West.

The surprise victory of the Oregon Aggies over the Violets of New York university and Kentucky's unexpected strength in holding the powerful Tennessee football team to a scoreless tie were the outstanding features of an interesting Thanksgiving Day football program.

The Aggies, unheralded, came east from the Pacific coast to administer a humiliating defeat to one of the most powerful eleven in the east, 25 to 13.

Tennessee's hopes of a southern championship were dashed by a sturdy Kentucky team which fought its rival of long standing to a standstill. The colonies are the first team to hold Tennessee scoreless and the tie left Florida and Georgia Tech as the only unbeaten, untied teams in the south.

Georgia Tech continued its winning stride with a 51 to 0 victory over Auburn. Florida fared as well, smothering Washington and Lee, 60 to 6. Alabama whipped Georgia, 19 to 0, and North Carolina State defeated South Carolina, 10 to 7, in other outstanding games.

In the east, Syracuse ended its season with a 14 to 6 win from Columbia and Pennsylvania ran wild against Cornell, scoring almost at will to gain a 49 to 0 decision.

After playing three consecutive tie games in as many years, Brown and Colgate finally reached a decision at Providence, Brown winning a narrow victory, 16 to 13. Pittsburgh smothered Penn State 26 to 0, and West Virginia outscored Washington and Jefferson, 14 to 0.

In the west Nebraska clinched the championship of the Big Six with a victory over Oklahoma A and M. 8 to 0. Butler sent Tufts back east smarting under a 26 to 3 defeat. Marquette and Drake won from Iowa State and Creighton, respectively, by scores of 6 to 0.

FLYER DEFEAT ONLY TURKEY DAY UPSET

University of Dayton Beaten Marines—Wittenberg Has Close Call.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 30.—The final curtain was rung down on collegiate and interscholastic football in Ohio yesterday.

The end of the season was not marked by sensational upsets, nor did a great turning out for the last games as anticipated.

Perhaps the greatest game yesterday was that between the Wittenberg Lutherans and Mt. Union, with Wittenberg barely nosing out the Mounts 6 to 0.

St. Xavier trounced the Haskell Indians 26 to 0 in their annual inter-sectional clash at Cincinnati. Miami whipped the University of Cincinnati, 34 to 0, in a one-sided game, ending the worst football season on record for the Bearcats.

The highly touted University of Dayton team fell before the Quantico Marines, 7 to 0, after a hard-fought game. This was the only upset of the day. The Flyers have been playing superb football but they were not match for the marines.

Up in the northern section of the state, Western Reserve had an easy time walloping Case School of Applied Science, 19 to 6.

While Reserve was beating Case, a powerful and heavy Geneva team was beating John Carroll, 19 to 12. Carroll put up a real battle, but the Genevans had the Carrollites outclassed.

At the same time Wilberforce and West Virginia Institute were battling to a 13 to 13 tie in their annual turkey day classic here.

HOLDS LOOP LEAD

Providence maintained its advance in the National professional football league with a Thanksgiving Day victory over Pottsville, 7 to 0. Benny Friedman's passing was the big factor in Detroit's victory over Dayton, 38 to 0. The Chicago Bears smothered the Chicago Cardinals, 34 to 0. The Frankford Yellow Jackets scored a safety on the Green Bay Packers to win, 2 to 0.

Ashville Team Wins County Championship

TIGERS LOSE LAST CONTEST TO VILLAGERS

Victors Romp To Title Over Circleville High — Losers Score on Final Play.

The gridders of the little village of Ashville now hold the championship of the county following their victory Wednesday over Circleville by a score of 20 to 0.

The game was played on the Ashville field with a large crowd rooting for both teams.

Circleville was at the bottom of the South Central Ohio league and now Ashville holds the honor of having the best team in the county.

FIRST QUARTER.

First quarter—Ashville kicked, Circleville returned the ball to the 16 yard line. Heeter on an off tackle play went for several yards. Davis on the same play gained one yard. Iles, plucky freshman, made a first down putting the ball on the 31 yard line. Heeter went for eight yards, but an offside on the Circleville line cost five yards. Grant made two attempts through the line, gaining six yards. Circleville punted 25 yards to Ashville. Ward made 25 yards on an end run, putting the ball on Circleville's 35 yard line. Ward then went for eight more. McGlone took the ball for another first down. Wallace received a bad bump and was taken out and Adkins substituted. Ward went for four through center. Ashville's march for a touchdown was stopped when Neff fumbled the ball and Heeter recovered it. Circleville made only small gains and was forced to kick. The quarter ended with the ball on the 49 yard line in Ashville's possession.

SECOND QUARTER.

At the start of the second quarter Ward went for nine and Canter took it for a first down. McGlone took it for two yards more and Ward went trotting over for a touchdown. But the village failed for the extra point. Ashville kicked. Heeter fumbled the ball but it was recovered by Davis. Heeter took it for four more and Grant made five but Iles fumbled. The ball was recovered by Ashville. On the pass the Ashville crew went to Circleville's 30 yard line. Ward went for two yards. Canter took it for four more but on an attempted triple pass the Ashville bunch lost 12 yards. The loss didn't seem to bother them much. On the next play a long pass to Canter annexed a touchdown. McGlone made the extra point. The half ended with the score 4 to 6.

TIGERS NET 6 POINTS.

Circleville kicked. Ashville made three first downs and another touchdown. Ward took the oval over the line for the goal but failed on the kick.

The lone touchdown came on the last play of the game when a pass, Grant to Lape, was completed and Lape crossed the goal.

All of the men in Ashville's backfield put up a good scrap. Ward was outstanding. The usual Circleville stars shined but their shining was behind a cloud spread by Ashville.

HEADS N. Y. U. 11

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Leonard Grant, a tackle, will captain the New York university football team in 1929. He was unanimously named for the honor in an informal meeting of the team at the Yankee stadium where it met the Oregon Aggies. He succeeds Al Lassman, also a tackle, now in a Pittsburgh hospital suffering from injuries received in the New York U.-Carnegie Tech game last Saturday.

TWO GAMES LOST BY WILLIAMSPORT

The Williamsport high cage teams went down to defeat Wednesday night in their initial games of the season when Clarksburg won in both the boys' and girls' games.

The boys' game was close and Clarksburg managed to win by one point. The score was 12 to 11. The Clarksburg girls were not so easy on the Williamsport girls' cage team as they finished the eye opener of the cage season with a score of 27 to 8.

The games were played on the Williamsport gym.
Dec. 7, Williamsport meets Saltcreek-twp. at Williamsport.

C. A. C. TEAM VICTOR OVER PET QUINTET

Circleville Basketball Aggregation Wins Opening Game by 45 To 30 Score.

The C. A. C. quintet evidently still has the jinx on Moeller's Pets as it took them into camp at the C. A. C. gym Thanksgiving night by the decisive score of 45 to 30.

The local five took the lead early in the game when Gordon scored a point from a free throw and at no time during the remainder of the game was it headed by the visitors. But this does not mean that it sailed along out of danger all the way as the Pets overcame a five point lead when they tied the score at 17 all in the late minutes of the first half and the club team was leading by only two points at the end of the first period which ended with the score 20 to 18.

The first half was by far the most interesting from the fans standpoint as the score was a rather see-saw affair with the club boys managing to maintain a two point lead most of the time. During the first half the C. A. C. boys game was slightly ragged in spots.

LAST HALF SMOOTHER

The second half produced a smoother game from a basketball standpoint and also accounted for the 15 point margin in the score. As the club team chalked up 25 points during this period while the visitors were able to secure but 12.

To designate any particular player on the club team as having starred would be an injustice to the team as a whole. The boys played as a team, not as individuals. That the guards played their positions well is indicated by the score. As the Pet forwards were able to secure but two goals each from the field. Even though Moeller's guards were the principal point getters for his Pets the men they were supposed to stop, the

C. A. C. forwards, succeeded in piling up 23 points between them, PARKS HIGH SCORER.

Parks was the high scorer for the C. A. C. team with 13 points and Steele and Gordon were close on his heels with 12 and 11 points respectively to their credit. The C. A. C. guards also contributed nine points to the C. A. C. score in addition to holding their respective opponents to ten points.

Thomas, at guard for the Pets, was the high scorer for his team, as well as being the outstanding player for the visitors.

BUFFALO NICKEL NOW WORTH MORE

It Buys a Finer Five-cent Cigar Than You Ever Smoked Before

Yes, sir, there's a premium value on buffalo (or any other) nickels if you measure them with Havana Ribbon cigars. You'll say Havana Ribbon really belongs in a higher-priced class. How so? Because Havana Ribbon is made from tobaccos usually used only in better grades of cigars. No bitter, under-ripe top leaves. No flat-tasting over-ripe bottom leaves. No "scraps" or short ends to crumble in your mouth. But only long, flavorful, mellow-mild, fully-ripe middle leaves from choice tobacco plants. Modern manufacturing methods and huge production have made it possible.

If you need any further urge to try this remarkable cigar, we'll make you this guarantee: If Havana Ribbon isn't the finest-tasting, biggest-value, five-cent cigar you ever smoked, you can have your trial nickel back. Also sold in Practical Pocket Packages of five cigars.

The reason for the new Chevrolet

A STATEMENT of General Motors' policy
by

ALFRED P. SLOAN, Jr., President.

THERE is an attitude in General Motors which is characterized by the phrase: "Facts and the Open Mind." It accepts nothing as final. It welcomes every new idea, and—by incessant research and test—produces continuous progress.

This attitude extends throughout our organization. In every division there is continuous improvement. And these improvements are not held back from the public. When they are proved they are passed on promptly.

The New Chevrolet is a superb example. During the first nine months of 1928 more than 1,000,000 Chevrolets were sold—a record for all time. Never was there a business which could have gone forward more safely without any material change.

Yet we have made a most sweeping change. Having passed the million mark in Chevrolet production, we were able to realize the dream of years: a six-cylinder car, with Fisher Body style, within the price range of the four.

There was no question of waiting for the current models to exhaust their appeal. The improvements were possible. The public had made them possible by the volume of its patronage. The public was entitled to the improvements promptly.

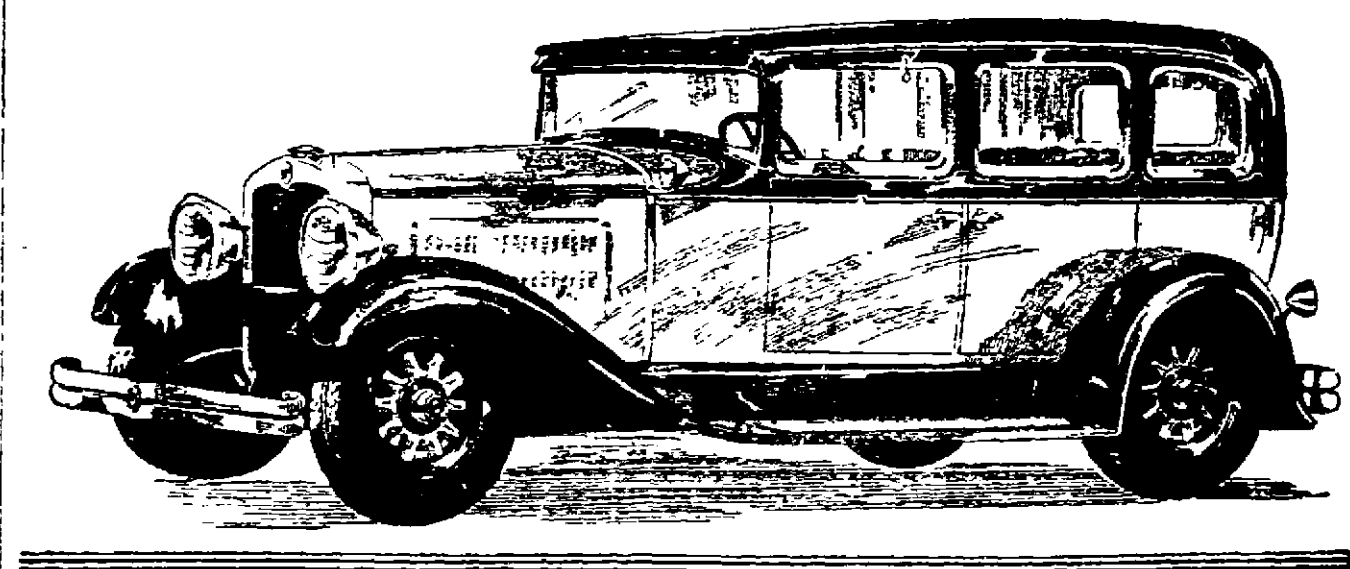

This is the spirit which lies behind the New Chevrolet. It is more than a 6-cylinder car. It is a wholly new creation. It is the triumph of a policy built upon a keen realization that the most valuable asset in business is continuous good-will.

Ashville Team Wins County Championship

TIGERS LOSE LAST CONTEST TO VILLAGERS

Victors Romp To Title Over Circleville High — Losers Score on Final Play.

The gridders of the little village of Ashville now hold the championship of the county following their victory Wednesday over Circleville by a score of 20 to 0.

The game was played on the Ashville field with a large crowd rooting for both teams.

Circleville was at the bottom of the South Central Ohio league and now Ashville holds the honor of having the best team in the county.

FIRST QUARTER.

First quarter—Ashville kicked, Circleville returned the ball to the 16 yard line. Heeter on an off tackle play went for several yards. Davis on the same play gained one yard. Iles, plucky freshman, made a first down putting the ball on the 31 yard line. Heeter went for eight yards, but an offside on the Circleville line cost five yards. Grant made two attempts through the line, gaining six yards. Circleville punted 20 yards to Ashville. Ward made 25 yards on an end run, putting the ball on Circleville's 35 yard line. Ward then went for eight more. McGlone took the ball for another first down. Wallace received a bad bump and was taken out and Adkins substituted. Ward went for four through center. Ashville's march for a touchdown was stopped when Neff fumbled the ball and Heeter recovered it. Circleville made only small gains and was forced to kick. The quarter ended with the ball on the 49 yard line in Ashville's possession.

SECOND QUARTER.

At the start of the second quarter Ward went for nine and Canter took it for a first down. McGlone took it for two yards more and Ward went trotting over for a touchdown. But the village failed for the extra point. Ashville kicked. Heeter fumbled the ball but it was recovered by Davis. Heeter took it for four more and Grant made five but Iles fumbled. The ball was recovered by Ashville. On the pass the Ashville crew went to Circleville's 30 yard line. Ward went for two yards. Canter took it for four more but on an attempted triple pass the Ashville bunch last 12 yards. The loss didn't seem to bother them much. On the next play a long pass to Canter annexed a touchdown. McGlone made the extra point. The half ended with the score 4 to 6.

TIGERS NET 6 POINTS.

Circleville kicked. Ashville made three first downs and another touchdown. Ward took the oval over the line for the goal but failed on the kick.

The lone touchdown came on the last play of the game when a pass, Grant to Lape, was completed and Lape crossed the goal.

line Shasteen tried for the extra point but failed.

Circleville tried hard but Ashville won the game on fair play and the championship of the county belongs to them as they earned it.

All of the men in Ashville's backfield put up a good scrap. Ward was outstanding. The usual Circleville stars shined but their shining was behind a cloud spread by Ashville.

HEADS N. Y. U. 11

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—Leonard Grant, a tackle, will captain the New York university football team in 1929. He was unanimously named for the honor in an informal meeting of the team at the Yankee stadium where it met the Oregon Aggies. He succeeds Al Lassman, also a tackle, now in a Pittsburgh hospital suffering from injuries received in the New York U-Carnegie Tech game last Saturday.

TWO GAMES LOST BY WILLIAMSPORT

The Williamsport high cage teams went down to defeat Wednesday night in their initial games of the season when Clarksburg won in both the boys' and girls' games.

The boys' game was close and Clarksburg managed to win by one point. The score was 12 to 11. The Clarksburg girls were not so easy on the Williamsport girls' cage team as they finished the eye opener of the cage season with a score of 27 to 8.

The games were played on the Williamsport gym.
Dec. 7, Williamsport meets Saltcreek-twp. at Williamsport.

C. A. C. TEAM VICTOR OVER PET QUINTET

Circleville Basketball Aggregation Wins Opening Game by 45 To 30 Score.

The C. A. C. quintet evidently still has the jinx on Moeller's Pets as it took them into camp at the C. A. C. gym Thanksgiving night by the decisive score of 45 to 30.

The local five took the lead early in the game when Gordon scored a point from a free throw and at no time during the remainder of the game was it headed by the visitors. But this does not mean that it sailed along out of danger all the way as the Pets overcame a five point lead when they tied the score at 17 all in the late minutes of the first half and the club team was leading by only two points at the end of the first period which ended with the score 20 to 18.

The first half was by far the most interesting from the fans standpoint as the score was a rather see-saw affair with the club boys managing to maintain a two point lead most of the time. During the first half the C. A. C. boys game was slightly ragged in spots.

LAST HALF SMOOTHER

The second half produced a smoother game from a basketball standpoint and also accounted for the 15 point margin in the score. As the club team chalked up 25 points during this period while the visitors were able to secure but 12.

To designate any particular player on the club team as having starred would be an injustice to the team as a whole. The boys played as a team, not as individuals. That the guards played their positions well is indicated by the score. As the Pet forwards were able to secure but two goals each from the field. Even though Moeller's guards were the principal point getters for his Pets the men they were supposed to stop, the

C. A. C. forwards, succeeded in piling up 23 points between them.

PARKS HIGH SCORER

Parks was the high scorer for the C. A. C. team with 13 points and Steele and Gordon were close on his heels with 12 and 11 points respectively to their credit. The C. A. C. guards also contributed nine points to the C. A. C. score in addition to holding their respective opponents to ten points.

Thomas, at guard for the Pets, was the high scorer for his team, as well as being the outstanding player for the visitors.

BUFFALO NICKEL NOW WORTH MORE

It Buys a Finer Five-cent Cigar Than You Ever Smoked Before

Yes, sir, there's a premium value on buffalo (or any other) nickels if you measure them with Havana Ribbon cigars. You'll say Havana Ribbon really belongs in a higher-priced class. How so? Because Havana Ribbon is made from tobaccos usually used only in better grades of cigars. No bitter, under-ripe bottom leaves. No "scraps" or short ends to crumble in your mouth. But only long, flavor-laden, mellow, mild, fully-ripe middle leaves from choice tobacco plants. Modern manufacturing methods and huge production have made it possible.

If you need any further urge to try this remarkable cigar, we'll make you this guarantee: If Havana Ribbon isn't the finest-tasting, biggest-value, five-cent cigar you ever smoked, you can have your trial nickel back. Also sold in Practical Packet Packages of five cigars.

Leguia Likely Only Nominee to Head Peru

President Since 1919 Receives Support of Three Main Political Parties.

LIMA, Nov. 29.—At the opening of the Peru's presidential campaign, all indications are that President A. B. Leguia will be the candidate to succeed himself in the elections next May.

There are three main political parties here, and the leaders of all have recently announced their continued support of Leguia, who has been in office since 1910. There is, then, every reason to present to expect that the active little president will continue his vigorous personal direction of Peru's affairs for five more years after next October 12. The Constitution was amended some years ago to permit his re-election.

President Leguia is 65, but enjoys good health and goes through his man-killing day's work without apparent ease. He is in his 60s from 11 a. m. to midnight every working day, excepting time for meals and official ceremonies. Morning and afternoon crowd of officials and petitioners is always waiting to see him. He meets with various cabinet members many times a week, usually makes from one to three speeches in that time, and attends to important public function.

The president's only recreation is his attendance the Sunday afternoon races. He owns the Alianza stud, which tains a number of the best horses in Peru. Sometimes after a long Sunday morning he tends a flower garden in the palace yard.

Leguia's platform is to develop the country's industries and culture; to irrigate land and tribute it in small tracts and the landless Indians; to attract immigration; and to improve communications by air, rail, and automobile.
